“ Betty was a dear friend of my mother Heidi. The last time I saw Betty is when she came to visit my mother in hospice . I can say that we always enjoyed it when Betty would visit, she was always full of fun and she will certainly be missed, especially her laugh. Our Deepest condolences to the Roberts family . “ Thoughts are with Betty's family. Betty was a friend and classmate of mine. Any interactions that I had with her were always positive and upbeat. I liked her laugh. She was generous and caring. I love the picture of her. My sympathies to all those who she loved and who loved her. Liz Wisecup

“ Betty was a crackerjack of a president for Windham Historical for several years. She would show up at the Windham Historical Society with her dolly holding a tote of clippings on historical subjects. She said with pride that she was a "clipper" of news items for the Windham historical society archives. For many years she made crafts for our annual Christmas Fair and again showed up with her totes full of wonderful items to sell. We will miss her energy and enthusiasm!!! Linda Griffin, another past president of the Windham Historical Society

“ Betty came to the Windham Public Library several times a week, always grabbing a handful of books at a time. She'd zip through the piles and come back for more! And the library benefited from her travels over the years-- receiving books that told about the places she'd been or places she wanted to go. Every time she stopped in, she'd see someone local that she knew and would take a few minutes to catch up. I've missed seeing her the past few years. The library has lost a good friend.
